The ULTA has been asked to provide input and feedback regarding clarification amendments to R592-6 (Unfair Inducements and Marketing Practices in Obtaining Title Insurance Business). As part of this review process, would you be in favor of a periodic assessment by the Title and Escrow Commission allowing for a reasonable increase to marketing limits for inflationary purposes?

____ YES ____ NO

The purpose of this assessment and potential increase would solely be for the purpose of accounting for inflation and the effect on the cost of doing business. For context, the average Consumer Price Index increase over the last decade has been just under 2%. Our recommendation would be that the integrity and objective, of regulating unfair practices, be protected during any review of the Rule as the primary goal of the Title and Escrow Commission. If the question above is favored by the vote of the ULTA, a further recommendation would be given to implement this periodic review and appropriate adjustment, while still achieving the intention of the Rule.
